May Make Drawings For National Army Last of This Week

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington, July 17.—With only ten states remaining to be heard from on the organization of local exemption boards, and with the serial number list of registrants from all but 89 of the 4,899 exemption districts on file in Washington, Provost Marshal General Crowder was hopeful today that the preliminary stages on the war army drawing would be completed within forty-eight hours.

He prepared to take up with Secretary Baker later in the day details of the lottery process for final approval.
If there is no unexpected delay it means likely the drawing can be held Friday or Saturday. A single district, which fails to finish its preliminary work on time, however, can hold up action indefinitely.

Once past the drawing state, General Crowder pointed out today, the necessity for concerted action by the states ceases and the examination of registrants and their assignments to army or exemption, can proceed in any state without regard to progress made in any other community.

AUSTRIAN PREMIER GIVES PEACE AIMS HIS NATION SEEKS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Vienna, July 17.—Austria Hungary's ideas on peace were made known to the constitution committee of the Reichsrath in an address by Premier Dr. von Seydewitz. After referring to the unbreakable unity between Austria and her allies, Dr. von Seydewitz declared parliament would work for "the aim for which Austria is fighting, namely the unassailable sacred right for her people to decide for themselves their internal destiny. This task at the same time will be a long strife in the direction of an honorable peace which we desire to create on the basis of justice, moderation and conciliation—the firm unity of all civilized peoples, and their uniform endeavor to abolish those circumstances which brought about the world war.
We are all longing for this peace.
Until then we are determined to hold on in firm co-operation between front and homeland."

He referred to the uselessness of all past efforts to secure the principle of equal rights of all nationalities laid down in the constitution. This, he said, was the cause of the political troubles which made Austria appear as a state which was not a state, but a collection of peoples. All peoples of Austria were united externally and internally by a common tie by love of the country and the uniformity of all vital interests.

risen from the ranks of the common people.

ing detained.

guards" had been called for tonight at the Globe courthouse. The mining companies have refused to treat with lief prevails that a few men under protection of United States troops will begin development work in the

RUSH ACTION ON AVIATION PROPOSALS

SENATE CLEARS DECKS TO RUSH
THROUGH $640,000,000 APPRO-PRIATION WITHOUT AMENDMENT.

DEBATE FOOD CONTROL

Compromise Agreement As Planned in Committee Contemplates Important Changes in Administration Measure.

Washington, July 17.—Another speed record in considering the $640-000,000 aviation program bill passed last Saturday by the house in five hours was made today when the senate military committee at a forty-five minute session unanimously ordered a favorable report without amendment.

The committee decided not to hold hearings in order that the appropriation may become available as soon as possible.

Senators leaders hope to secure an agreement to set aside the food bill temporarily tomorrow and pass the aviation measure with brief debate.
Among amendments suggested were war department and which the committee today decided to postpone, was one for creating an air craft production board.

The committee believed such an amendment would develop complications regarding personnel and powers of the board and congressional action could well be deferred.

The Senate Bill.
Senators today virtually concluded their task of drafting compromise amendments to the administration food control bill and debate was continued with the prospect of voting late today or tomorrow. The compromise agreement, it is believed, will command support from a majority of the senate.

A board of food administration in lieu of a single individual composed of three members directly under the president's control, is the principal change to be made. The board would have the power to issue orders upon today at the bipartisan conference were for fixing by congress of a minimum price of $1.75 per bushel of wheat, and an extension of the government licensing and food purchasing powers in the bill.

It previously had been agreed to limit government control to wheat, seed and fuel, including gasoline and kerosene.

Wheat Price.
The minimum wheat price of $1.75 under the proposed amendment, drafted today would be for No. 1 northern wheat as a basis for standard minimum prices for all other wheat grades.
Provisions of Senator Gore's subcommittee regarding wheat minimum price, the licensing and federal requisitioning purchase and sale powers, were substantially approved by the senate. The provisions of the committee would provide for licensing of elevators, cold storage plants, packing houses, coal mines and factories, limited, however, to products and agencies entering interstate or foreign commerce.

The conference also approved Senator Gore's proposal for government commandeering, purchase, lease and operation of coal mines and also his provision for government purchase and sale to secure reasonable prices of fuel, meat, flour, meal, beans and potatoes.

Ship Building.
The government shipbuilding program continued at a standstill today, and there was no indication indicating when the program would be resumed. The shipping board emergency fleet corporation, would proceed with his plans for requisitioning and speeding up construction of merchant shipbuilding in American yards.

he commenced to explode over the

An American collier in port returning from the submarine fire with such precision and volume that the under-craft soon submerged. The British guns. One girl and man were killed assumed the premiership and has also taken over the war portfolio. President Li Yuan Hung has announced his decision not to resume office. He has entered the French hospital and is under treatment for a slight internal complaint. It appears, however, his resignation was induced not by illness but a disturbing incident at his

the guards ran amuck with a saber, killed a colonel and two soldiers and wounded a captain and a soldier.

BUT TWO SURVIVORS OF BRITISH VESSEL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
An Atlantic Port, July 17.—A gunner and a fireman who said they were the only survivors of the British was sunk May 29 by a German U-here today, it was reported by her officer.

The rescue was made, the officer said, on the trip from this port to England. The Daley was a vessel of 3,625 tons gross.

ILLINOIS MINISTER RAPES "OBJECTORS"

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Joliet, Ill., July 17.—The Rev. E. D. byterian church of this city, has refused the request of the American Liberty League, a group of Chicago several of whose members are Chicago clergymen, that he be allowed to furnish speakers for his pulpits to uphold the stand of the "conscientious objector."

"What have I done to suffer the insult of such a proposal at this time?" wrote the Rev. Mr. Hastings to the organization today. "I should like to son offer himself to protect the men who would use his conscience to evade his duty? My son left Preston to enlist in the navy in recognition of the debt to his country."

THREE RUSS MINISTERS QUIT POSTS

MAY NOW BE AVERTED.

SPLIT OVER UKRAINE

Sharp Disagreement Involves Questions Regarding Government of Territory of Ancient Polish Kingdom.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Petrograd, July 17.—Three members of the cabinet have resigned and a special session of council of ministers has been convoked to avert a crisis. Their names are: A. I. Shingarov, minister of finance; Prof.
Manduloff, minister of education and Prince Shakhovskiy, head of the department of public aid. The resignations followed a sharp disagreement over questions involving the Ukraine, an extensive region in Russia, comprising part of the territories of the old Kingdom of Poland.

Split Over Ukraine.
Premier Lvoff asked the ministers to meet at his private residence when the cause of the dispute will be considered. It is known he will attempt to prevail on them to withdraw their resignations. The split in the ministry occurred last night at a ministerial conference called to consider a report submitted by M. Tereschenko, minister of foreign affairs, and M.
Tseretalli, minister of post and telegraph, as a result of their negotiations concerning the Ukrainians.

After the report was read, the ministers promptly took exception to the form of declaration drawn up by M.
Tereschenko and M. Tseretalli and agreed to the fact that these ministers without authorization of the government took it on themselves to commit the government to a definite policy regarding the Ukraine.

M. Tereschenko and M. Tseretalli it was maintained, simply had been chosen to find a possible basis of an agreement in the Ukraine, but had not been given the power of making a declaration in the name of the government.

They insisted that their adverse positions in regard to the declaration was not to be taken as an objection to the principle of autonomy for the Ukraine, wherever their party is in full sympathy. Their protest, they repeated, was against the method of reaching the decision, not the decision itself.

When the vote was taken, the two members of the government acting without authority from the council of ministers, and against the wording, which was ambiguous and left the government in a position of equivocation.

M. Tseretalli flatly insisted upon the immediate publication of the declaration, adding that the form might be added if the sense was kept intact.
The two members of the government acting without authority from the council of ministers, and against
and left the government in a position of equivocation.

After taking cognizance of the views of M. Tereschenko and of M.
Tseretalli and of a communication from War Minister Kerensky on the subject, the government decided today on the creation of an executive body to push into execution measures dealing with the administration of Ukraine. The persons will be chosen by the government in agreement with the Ukrainians on the basis of equitable representation of other nationalities inhabiting Ukraine.

Report Street Skirmish.
Two demonstrations against the government resulted in firing of shots in Nevsky Prospekt at midnight as a result of which a number of persons were killed or wounded.

The firing apparently was the result of stray shots which brought on a panic, in which the demonstrators turned rifles and machine guns on each other. Quiet was restored after a few minutes. The demonstration was organized by Bolsheviks, the majority faction of the social democratic party.

SAVE ALL BOTTLES MANUFACTURERS PLEA

Milwaukee, July 17.—"Save the bottles." This is the cry of milk dealers, who assert one reason for advancing milk prices is the cost of bottles. They urge that dealers actually in Wisconsin, one dealer asserted, in Milwaukee alone close to 200,000 bottles are lost annually.

Because of shipping conditions and the demand for other manufacture, glass factories are unable to meet the demand for new bottles and if they were the additional cost would run up to just the same.

It becomes a patriotic duty therefore, that housewives conserve milk bottles and all other kinds of bottles.

SPORTS

GIBBONS IN CLASS
ALL BY HIMSELF

Mike Gibbons, middleweight, has reached virtually the stage of operations where Johnny Kilbane stands. These two masters of their art are practically out of some one to fight. For a lack of featherweights of class, Kilbane is being forced to take on the lightweights. Gibbons, out of classy middleweights, is forced to just sit around, for there really are few light heavies who look attractive when compared to Mike.

Mike's action, however, is far from pleasing to the public. Although recognizing the fact that Gibbons stands out over the many would-be rivals, the fans would like to see the St. Paul Ghost take one more fling at the tough old warrior. Gibbons is still far from being classed among the has-beens and Jeff Smith insists he can and could always whip Mike. However, the most insistent cries for attention from Gibbons are coming now from Soldier Bartfield, Ted Lewis and Mike Dowd.

Lewis, welterweight, has given Gibbons one tough argument, and Bartfield holds a newspaper decision over the man generally recognized as the king of the middleweights. Dowd is a graduate of the Gibbons school, and is recognized as one of the best men the welterweight division has seen in many days.

Any one of this trio of welters would give Mike an argument—a hot one. And then, if he could induce Al McCoy to get into a ring with him there would be another bout of more or less possibilities. Al is not a champion and never has been, but he manages to hang on to what little claim he has to the title. Until he is soundly thrashed by Gibbons or some one else he will lay claims to the championship and some folks believe him.

A revival of interest in the middleweights is needed. In the days of Stanley Ketchel this was the most popular of weights. It has begun to run down only since Gibbons whipped the best men in the division and began to spend his time clipping coupons.

Mike spent most of last winter in New York trying to drive Les Darcy into a match. The Australian was absolutely unimpressable on the subject. It meant a clear title, and Gibbons' championship for either he or Gibbons, but Darcy blocked every move.

Since that time Gibbons has engaged in just one encounter and that with George Chip on July 4. Indications are he is beginning another campaign. If so, it will be welcome.

When Sisler entered Michigan Branch Rickey, now president of the St. Louis Cardinals, was coach of the Wolf. A strong attachment resulted between coach and protégé. Before the time of Sisler's graduation at Ann Arbor Rickey had gone to St. Louis as manager of the Browns. Naturally he was anxious to secure the services of his former pupil, and despite Pittsburgh's protest signed the young star to a St. Louis American contract.

Ad Swigler, the Penn college pitcher who has been taken on by the New York Giants, is a development of Roy Thomas, the Penn coach, who is sure he will be good for McGraw. Swigler entered Penn in 1914 and went through his freshman year without losing a game for his class team. Last year he was bothered with a sore shoulder and did not pitch much, but this season he was Penn's big card in its games and lost only one game, that being to Holy Cross.

CLUB WOMEN TO PLAY TOURNAMENTS

Arrange Tournaments With Clubs at Rockford and Beloit.—Local Men In Good Shape.

With a good part of the season already passed and golfers at the Janesville Country club rounded into tournament shape, a number of matches are being arranged by the directors of the club with players from nearby golf centers. On next Thursday, the nineteenth, a match has been scheduled with the Rockford Country club. About thirty-five visiting players are expected here for the tournament.

On the twenty-fifth of this month, a week from tomorrow, the local club will meet the Beloit enthusiasts in tournament, and for this match the rivalry is especially keen. Beloit's links are in excellent condition, and the match next week is expected to bring out the best in the two clubs.

A glance at the scores turned in almost daily by the best local players would be enough to worry any opposing club, for a fine season and exceptional conditions on the course have acted as a decided incentive for the improvement of the game locally. H. Wussaw, professional at the Janesville club, went around in thirty-six on Sunday, the best score made on the links this season.

MORRIS MILLER

Baseball promoters will not profit much this year, but they will not lose as much as they did last year. The look, as appeared to be the prospect a few weeks after the season opened. This is written concerning the major leagues. The minors cannot hope to prosper because they have collected almost none of the evils of poorly arranged circuits and extravagance which have kept them on the verge of poverty for years. The economical regimen in the majors is largely responsible for the plight of the minors because they have depended so much in the past on the sales of recruits, and that traffic is now reduced to a minimum for various reasons.

What the conditions will be next year remains to be seen. They depend a great deal on the developments of the war. But at the present rate of progress by the government it does not appear that any appreciable inroad on the ranks of any profession or trade will be made before another year. The first half million of the drafted army is not likely to produce gaps in the major league ranks that cannot be filled, if the draft is conducted by lottery, and at the present rate of preparation the army cantonments (which are on paper) could be vacated to make room for a second half million of drafted men. Consequently the baseball promoters, who were ready to close their gates at the end of this season, are beginning to plan tentatively for next year, and have decided to await developments before making a final decision.

There are not many recruits on the Giant team or with the Red Sox or the White Sox. Olson and not Fabrique is playing shortstop for Brooklyn now and Wagner is back with the Pirates and Cravath still wears a Philadelphia uniform. Outside of a few battery men, the youngsters who came up this season, and who really have made a name for themselves, are few and far between. Just about he counted on the fingers of one hand.

If four men were to be picked for each position they probably would be Chase, McInnis, Sisler and Pipp for first base; Collins, Herzog, Barry and Wambach for second; Groh, Baker, Zimmerman and Gardner for third; Fletcher, Peckinpaugh, Scott and Maranville for short; and Cobb, Speaker, Burns and Jackson for the outfielders. Men such as Roush and Hornsby might be in somewhere, but the majority of stars still are players who are veterans in experience.

Before leaving for the east Manager Mitchell of the Cubs told President Weegham he could ask waivers on Catcher Jimmy Archler and Pitcher Tom Seaton, as he had no further use for them. Their places are taken by Pitcher Nick Carter and Catcher Pickles Dillhoefer.

Catcher Hank Gowdy has rejoined the Braves. Upon reporting to Columbus he found that the army unit with which he had enlisted would not be called into service for a month or more, so decided to keep on playing ball until he got his orders from Uncle Sam.

Meanwhile Sisler's father had interested himself in the welfare of his son. He wished the boy cleared of the taint of professionalism, and so applied to the national commission to rule on George Sisler's amateur standing. The father showed the satisfaction of the triumvirate that the contract entered into with Akron had been the hasty action of a minor, not entitled to transact business for himself.

Sisler the elder made it very clear that he wished his boy to be equipped with a university education. The national commission to restore Sisler's amateur standing, declared null and void the contract the boy had signed with the Akron club of the Ohio and Pennsylvania league.

George meanwhile had begun to develop into one of the most sensational college stars of all time. Scouts from every major league club looked him over and went into raptures over his future. All of them tried to sign him, but the Pirate scouts let it be understood that Pittsburgh had first claim.

VON HINDENBURG'S DOUBT
CAPTURED BY ITALIANS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Rome, July 17.—Among the prisoners captured in the big Italian push on the Carso front is an officer who bears such a strong resemblance to Field Marshal Von Hindenburg that he was at first taken for the latter. The prisoner, a major of infantry, was observed in the collecting station by an Italian intelligence officer, who exclaimed:

"What! Have we got the great Hindenburg?"

"No," replied the major, "I am not Hindenburg, nor any relative of his. I am merely a poor wretch who will do more fighting."

News Notes from Movieland

—BY DAISY DEAN—

Gail Kane.

In Aimee Dalmores, the Italian actress, one company believes it has discovered one of the greatest screen beauties in the world. The young woman makes her debut in the picture called "The On the Square Girl," soon to be released.

Though still exceedingly young, Miss Dalmores has had a most interesting career. She was born in Salerno, Italy, just outside of Naples, but when she was only five years old came to this country with her family. As a child she developed a talent for music, and at an early age was sent to Paris to study music and the arts with an idea of fitting herself for the operatic stage.

When very young Miss Dalmores studied music and the arts in Paris. In 1914 she made her theatrical debut in the Winter Garden, New York, as Mademoiselle Mize. Later she appeared with Lou Tellegen in "Taking Chances" and with Emily Stevens in "The Unchained Woman."

FRENCH SOLDIERS SENDING THANKS FOR "TUCK BAGS"

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Paris, July 17.—Gare du Nord is the great railway station of Paris through which American troops will pass to and from the way to the front. Gen. Pershing and his staff had their first glimpse of Paris through its big front door.

On the whole it is the happiest and saddest place in the French metropolis. The happiness is, of course, the war.

If the American women could see the results of the handy bags they have made for the French soldiers, they would be proud to have them.

The money they collect in America to cheer the soldiers at the Gare du Nord they would feel justly compensated for every cent and every hour of work.

In a great hall in a basement of the station French patriots rather to be entertained by the American patriots and to be entertained by the American patriots. A benevolent French woman who has been in America for some time, and who has seen the American soldiers, will be just as welcome. The men are leaving for the front—passing through the Gare du Nord.

When the luncheon is finished the work of one of thousands of American women is handed to the soldiers by kindly French American women. They are the work of the American people for the French soldiers.

These include Mrs. Mary Beech Needham, wife of the late famous American writer, and Miss Bent of Chicago. Hundreds of "tuck bags" sewed and provisioned in every state in America are handed to the eager patriots.

Big strong men, who know that within twenty-four hours they will be back fighting death in the firing line, almost weep and bless the American women. The bags contain whatever of every description—canned, dried, soap, towels, tooth brushes, and paste and hundreds of things that cheer men cursed with almost three years of war.

On the night the French patriots received their first message direct from Gen. Pershing and was introduced to the American officer, the United Press saw what kindly American women were doing for the French soldiers.

Gen. Pershing, Capt. N. E. Margolis, aide-de-camp to Gen. Pershing, and Maj. Churchill of the general staff represented the American women who were doing for the French soldiers. The American officers and American women until their throats were tired.

"Vive l'Amérique," "Vive le Général Pershing," "Vive la France," came from all the 450 throats. "Vive Everybody!" shouted one old patriots after the others had finished.

Gen. Pershing told the soldiers in about a dozen words that the French soldiers, like all America, admired them for the valorous fight they had made for nearly three long years.

"We are with you until the finish," said Margolis, "and we will continue the struggle until the American comrades arrive and fight by your side."

Then came the American "tuck bags." Eighty uniformed men reached for the treasures.

Scamania Elie, a big handsome blond Zouave, who has been through hell of the front, asked for a paper and asked the reporter to thank Miss Ruth Fryling, Concord, North Carolina, for the bag she sent to some unknown soldier.

There was joy in the eyes of Rogue Joseph, a young soldier of many campaigns, when he pulled the name of Miss Helen Eaglesfield, 1852 North Pennsylvania street, Indianapolis, from his tuck bag. He didn't mind having Miss Eaglesfield know his address.

There was joy in the eyes of Rogue Joseph, a young soldier of many campaigns, when he pulled the name of Miss Helen Eaglesfield, 1852 North Pennsylvania street, Indianapolis, from his tuck bag. He didn't mind having Miss Eaglesfield know his address.

A bag sent by Miss Emily Warner, 71 Oak Street, Philadelphia, N. Y., fell to a handsome young patriot who said he would write to her direct from the front.

The fame of the "tuck bag" has spread on the French battle front. Over thirty have already been distributed at the Gare du Nord and thousands more are to come for American soldiers as well as French, say the American workers in Paris.

EXTRA WAR SESSION CONSIDERED LIKELY

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., July 17.—Emergency sessions arising out of the war will do more to bring the legislature into session than any other factor. Governor Philipp says that the men will not be called back until absolutely necessary, but the general opinion is that the war will cause another session. During the Civil war the state held annual sessions of the legislature and yet two adjourned and three extra sessions were necessary to meet emergencies.

The big fish and game bill which was signed by the governor on Friday will be the subject of discussion when the legislature is again called into extra session. The protest of the fish and game fishermen against the provisions of the bill prompted the governor to call Senator Timothy Burke of Green Bay that in case of a legislative call the fish bill would be one of the measures which he would introduce. The now may did not feel that the measure should be sent back to the legislature during the closing days of the session, but it is probable that if there was a call for a special session fish laws would be one of the things that would be introduced. One of the principal objections made against the bill, and the conservation commission has agreed with much of the protest, that in case of a special session his feature of the law will again be considered.

While military matters will probably preponderate the call of the legislature, a number of other subjects may need consideration. The effect of the federal food enactment may necessitate changes in some of Wisconsin's laws.

"What makes you so hoarse, Bob?"
"I was up the best part of the night singing to the baby, trying to make him stop crying."
"Then why didn't you stop singing?"

INJUNCTION ORDER IS ISSUED AGAINST INTERNATIONAL NEWS

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
New York, July 17.—Although the United States circuit court of appeals some weeks since rendered an opinion on a temporary injunction against the International News Service from pirating news belonging to the former organization, the writ of the order has been postponed by the attempts of the defendant organization through their counsel, Samuel Untermyer, to obtain a stay, first, from the circuit court of appeals, second, from the district court, and third, from a justice of the supreme court of the United States. All three requests having been refused, the order has been entered by direction of Judge Augustus N. Hand, of the United States district court of the southern district of New York, restraining the international news service from three practices:

"(A) From inducing, procuring or permitting any telegraph editors or other employees or agents of the complainant or any of its members or of any newspaper or newspaper owned or represented by them or any of them or any such member to communicate to defendant or permit defendant to take or appropriate, for consideration or otherwise, any news received from or gathered for complainant and from purchasing, receiving, selling, transmitting, or using any news so obtained."

"(B) From inducing or procuring, directly or indirectly, any of complainant's members or any of the newspapers represented by them, to violate any of the agreements fixed by the charter and by-laws of the complainant."

"(C) From copying, obtaining, taking, selling, transmitting or otherwise gainfully using, or from causing to be copied, obtained, taken, sold, transmitted or otherwise gainfully used the complainant's news, either bodily or in substance, from bulletins issued by the complainant or from any of its members or from editions of newspapers published by any of complainant's members, until its commercial value as news to the complainant and all of its members has been exhausted."

Although the court found that the Associated Press was not guilty of any such forms of piracy, it having voluntarily offered to submit to a like injunction to that contained in paragraph C, it is ordered that such a counter-injunction also be issued in that particular.

Pictures of comrades and camp life, pictures of the thousand and one things that can be photographed without endangering any military secret will interest the boys and interest their friends at home.

GOVERNOR REJECTS DRAINAGE MEASURE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Madison, Wis., July 17.—Just before the legislature adjourned since last night, Governor Philipp presented a veto to the senate to the bill for drainage bills. First he asked that the bill be changed in certain particulars. The members of the legislature did not feel that they could make such important changes without a few numbers present. The governor then vetoed the measure. The governor says that most of the provisions of the bill are meritorious, but there are some that he cannot agree to.

"These sections of the bill would permit absolutely the removal of any dam in any navigable stream in the state of Wisconsin," says the executive veto, "whether such dam was located within or without the drainage district, whenever a drainage district was organized for any district bordering thereon, or the ditches of which were discharged into any navigable stream of the state. If this bill vested in the railroad commission or some other public body, the authority to determine whether the dam should be better served by the construction and maintenance of a drainage district than by the then existing dams in navigable waters when it is sought to interfere by them with the flow of water or compensation to the owners of the dam and riparian owners and other persons affected by the change had been provided for, it would have met with my approval, although there are several other features of it which, in my judgment, ought to be changed."

The drainage bill is one of the most important measures of the session, but Governor Philipp has not closed the door for hope.

"I recommend that a new bill be drafted for introduction either at the next session of the legislature or at a special session if one is called," says the governor, "consolidating, amending and harmonizing all the present laws on drainage, the provisions of which, I am advised, are at present inharmonious and unworkable in many particulars."

This was the concluding work of the session and it adjourned sine die.

C. L. BREWER ASSIGNED TO FORT FRED FUSTON
AT LEON SPRINGS, TEX.

Chester L. Brewer, director of athletics at the University of Wisconsin, was made last week has been assigned to Fort Fred Fuston, at Leon Springs, Texas, according to the announcement of the Columbia (Mo.) Daily Tribune, a copy of which was received in Janesville. The offer comes to Mr. Brewer as a further tribute to his worth as an athletic director.

"It signifies that the government deems it worthy to be classed as one of the country's sixteen leading athletic directors, as there will be sixteen appointments made, one to each of the army cantonments."

Mr. Brewer had previously accepted a five year contract with the Michigan Agricultural College, his duties beginning this fall. In a communication from the chairman of the athletic committee of the Michigan college he was advised to accept the government offer, and that arrangements could be made later in regard to dissolving the contract.

"Just what rank Mr. Brewer will receive has not yet been determined by the war department, but it is probable that he will be commissioned a major."

Mr. Brewer left for the camp on Sunday. Mrs. Brewer and children will remain at Columbia for the present.

MUST BE A REGULAR
TO GET BEER HERE

Liverpool, July 17.—Owing to the shortage of beer certain saloonkeepers in the Liverpool district are refusing to serve strangers, declaring that they are reserving supplies for their regular customers. The courts will be asked to decide whether this is permissible, under the terms of their liquor licenses, which require them to "provide reasonable refreshment on request."
